President's Report:
Eastern VHF Conference Is Almost Here

So we are now in early April, and old man winter is trying like crazy to hold on just as long as he can! I still have patches of snow all around the house here in the hills west of Albany, NY. I would guess that our friend, Paul – W1GHz has a bunch of snow around his place as well. But we have had a few warm days, with more sure to come.

April is also the usual time for the Eastern VHF Conference. The conference committee has been hard at work putting together this year’s gala affair. It’s looking good so I hope you will come to the conference even if it is a last minute decision. I think the conference hotel is fully booked at this time, but there are still many other hotels and motels nearby that can accommodate you. So no excuses, please come.

This year the conference will have a Workshop Session from 2:30 - 5:00+ PM on Friday afternoon. Two workshops are scheduled: "Making the VHF and up Contest Changes Work To Our Activity Advantage, a round table hosted by K3TUF and “Antenna Modeling” which I will be hosting. With regard to K3TUF’s round table discussion, Phil has been a very active participant in VHF contests for the last many years and will lead what will certainly be a spirited discussion. It would be to our serious advantage to take advantage of rules changes to increase activity on the VHF bands here in the North East. Scores and activity has been declining in this part of the country for several years now. Let’s see if we can improve the situation. Please come and participate.

Antenna Modeling Workshop
My plan for the antenna modeling workshop it to invite anyone who has an interest in antenna modeling to come with models they have worked on to discuss what they have learned with the group. If you have some favorite software, BRING IT as well, if it fits on your laptop. (I’m sure we could even accommodate you if you want to bring your desktop machine with a better processor and a bigger screen.) The workshop would be great for anyone who is new to the topic to see how the modeling process works from start to finish. I have worked most with a program named NEC Win Professional (that is no longer sold) and plan to show the results of modeling a 6-foot dish on 903 and 1296 MHz using a Green’s Functions file to describe the dish surface in models with different feeds out front. I also own Roy Lewallen, (W7EL)’s EZNEC+ v.5.0, but have only used it occasionally over the years for some simple problems.

So bring your models, bring your results, and bring your programs on computers (if you can). Bring your questions, bring your answers, and let’s get together and see what we can learn from each other. This workshop will only be successful if we get a bunch of guys ready to talk about what they have done and what they have learned. Please come.

2015 CSVHVF Conference
Denver, CO

Thursday July 23 thru Sunday July 26, 2015
Denver Marriott Westminster
7000 Church Ranch Boulevard
Westminster, Colorado

Early Bird Registration is online at http://2015.csvhfs.org/

Nestled in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, this fine venue offers many amenities within a short distance. There will be ample time to meet and greet your old friends and to make new ones.

Our local host this year is Rocky Mountain Ham Radio. The conference will feature the traditional activities, Banquet, Luncheons and hospitality suites, technical programs, noise figure measurement, antenna range, Rover vehicle show and tell. We have a wide variety of activities available along the Front Range of Colorado and will be offering a choice of side trips designed to entertain the entire family. Operating opportunities under consideration include microwave operating from local mountain tops and the chance to score a microwave VUCC in a weekend! A Sunday VHF 102 introduction geared to newcomers to weak signal operation on the VHF+ bands will be promoted locally and designed to encourage younger hams to get involved in DX’ing and contesting.

Rooms will be $109 per night and this rate will be available 3 days prior to and three days after the conference for those wishing to take advantage of this opportunity to explore the many wonders the Colorado Front Range has to offer. This link will take you to the hotel’s advance registration page for the Conference. Please use the host hotel as it makes it possible for us to bring the conference to you at the cost we’ve negotiated.

At this time we would like to encourage any and all amateurs interested in presenting papers and programs on subjects that would be of interest to the CSVHFS conference weak signal attendees to contact our Program Chairman John Maxwell W0VG at w0vg@arrl.net
